To whom it may concern

Reference: Massimo De Santis

Massimo De Santis was employed at SPI (Società Progettazioni Integrali) in September 2010 – November 2011 as Senior Architect.

During this period, Massimo worked on the New Gap Flagship store in Rome, a 4 million Euros high end retail project, generating production information during the design stage in conjunction with the Gap US design team, playing an important role with the UK client project management team and liaising with the General Contractor on matters of progress, quality and resolution of technical issues arising on site with a continuous attendance for the entire duration of the contract.

He was also responsible for the design proposal development of the new Fendi Store in Al Khayyat shopping centre in Jeddah, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, working closely with the Fendi design team and management and taking lead-ing roles in the coordination of drawings and specifications with the relevant consultant disciplines.

In addition he has been assisting on a variety of other projects such as the new Venchi store and the new Louis Vitton flagship store, both in the centre of Rome, for the production and compilation of the Employer's requirements.

Massimo demonstrated great commitment, enthusiasm and pride in his work, always had a amiable attitude, and gave a huge and decisive contribution to all the projects he worked on, and we have no hesitation in recommending him very highly.

Yours faithfully
